

COLORED WOMAN DIES

The Negro community of Franklin was very much grieved to have departed from them, one who had endeared her life to the community in which she lived, setting forth high ideals for those with whom she came in contact. The person referred to was Mrs. Callie Addington, who was summoned home last Friday at 10 o'clock, A. M., October 24, 1929.

Many friends mourn with the family and say with the poet:

"We loved her, yes, we loved her,
But Jesus loved her more,
And he has sweetly called her,
To yonder shining shore.

The golden gates were opened,
A Gentle voice said, 'come',
And with farewell unspoken,
She calmly entered home."

The Franklin Press, 1 November 1929