

Edgar Allfather

Edgar W. Allfather, 84, of Roanoke, Va., formerly of Franklin, died Thursday, March 13, in a Roanoke hospital after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Allfather was retired from the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and was active in the preliminary survey of the Blue Ridge Parkway in this area and in Virginia. He was a 50 Year Member of Junaluska Lodge and a veteran of World War I. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Cox, a son, Dick Allfather, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in Roanoke and burial was in his native state, New Jersey.

The Franklin Press, 20 March 1969