

John C. Barrington Dies in Richmond

John C. Barrington died suddenly Saturday, February 10, at his home at Richmond, Va., relatives here have been notified. He had been in ill health for the past four years. The body was taken to Pamlico county, North Carolina, for burial in the Barrington family cemetery.

In 1922 Mr. Barrington married Miss Lola Penland, of this county, who survives him.

The Franklin Press, 22 February 1934