

Jack W. Brockway Jr. of Highlands, lost his battle with heart disease on Thursday, Feb. 22, 2007, after many years of struggling with the disease.

The memory of Jack's zest for life will continue to live on. He believed in organ donation and would have been so happy to know that 33 people have already benefited from his gift.

Born in Boston, Mass., on Feb. 16, 1944, to his parents, Jack W. Brockway Sr. and mother, Estell "Ginger" Brockway, Jack grew up in Atlanta, Ga., coming to Highlands on weekends and during the summer months. He attended Sewanee Military Academy before graduating from North Fulton High School in Atlanta. He graduated from Andrews Junior College then was drafted into service during the Vietnam War. He completed his education after his service commitment and spent his career in sales as an entrepreneur.

He is survived by his wife of 27 years, Shirley Brockway; his sister, Fredricka "Ricka" and husband Geary Langford of Thomasville, Ga.; happiness and pure bliss was his four sons that he loved more than life itself and was so proud of all their accomplishments in life, Jack III and wife Tracie of Radford, Va., Anthony and fiancée Jeannell Mimms of Atlanta, Brian and wife Nicole of Augusta, Ga., and Charles and wife Lacy of Highlands; brother-in-law, Charles Baty and wife Lyla of Miami, Fla.; three adorable grandchildren, Hannah, Emma and Wilson Brockway; two nieces, Kearsley and Ginger; and one nephew, Ford.

Jack was active in many professional organizations including the Jaycees, Navy League and the Rotary Club. His second love to his wife (but then maybe she never knew) was the game of golf. He had a good game and taught golf for several years in Atlanta. He was so envious of his son, Charles, when he was invited to play the Augusta National course, but he's not envious anymore. Today, he's playing on heaven's golf course and saying "Dream on kid...only the best play here." He also leaves behind his golfing partner and life long friend, Matthew Smith. Please join the family in the celebration of his life in a memorial service to be held on Saturday, March 10, at 11 a.m., at the Highlands Episcopal Church of The Incarnation with the Rev. Dr. James Yeary officiating.

He would love for donations to be made to "The Highlands Scholarship Fund" that his father established years ago and so many graduating seniors have benefited from. Please, help the local children continue their education.
