

JUDGE CLARKSON
DIES IN CHARLOTTE

Judge Heriot Clarkson, 78, associate justice of the N. C. Supreme court, died suddenly of a heart attack at the home of his son, Francis Clarkson, in Charlotte on Tuesday, January 27. The funeral was held at St. Peter's church, Charlotte, on Wednesday. Judge and Mrs. Clarkson have visited Franklin, where he was interested in placing historical markers for the State Historical Society.

The Franklin Press, 29 January 1942