

Death of Allen DeHart

Allen DeHart, 77, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. C. Anderson, at Tellico, early Monday morning. Mr. DeHart was one of the pioneer citizens of the county and had hundreds of friends who will regret to learn of his demise. Though along in years the deceased was progressive and always stood for any project that would advance the interest of Macon county. He is survived by the following named children: Vance, John and Mrs. R. C. Anderson, all of Macon county; William of Copper Hill, Tenn., and Mrs. F. S. Hollifield, of Gastonia.

The remains were interred at Tellico Baptist church Tuesday.

The Franklin Press, 10 January 1929