

MR. S. W. DUVALL PASSES AWAY

Mr. Sam W. Duvall died at his home on Lower Burningtown, September 30, 1920, with heart trouble. Mr. Duvall was well known in Macon and Swain counties. Mr. Duvall was always kind to all who knew him. When we think of him we always think of him as a friend. The writer has lived a near neighbor to him for seven years, and has had much dealings with him, and always found him truthful and honest. Mr. Duvall professed faith in Christ about 17 years ago, but never joined any church. He always cherished a hope for a better home in the great beyond.

His remains were laid to rest in the Tellico cemetery October 1, 1920, Rev. W. L. Bradley conducting the funeral services.

He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and four children, two boys and two girls, all of whom are married, and have families. We extend our heartfelt sympathies to the bereaved family.

VIRGIL SMITH.

The Franklin Press, 15 October 1920