

Herbie Lee Eller

Published:

Wednesday, January 16, 2008 11:29 AM EST

Herbie Lee Eller, 86, of Cartersville and formerly of Clayton, died Thursday, Jan. 10, 2008, at Heartland Hospice House in Cartersville.

He was born Aug. 1, 1921, in Rabun County to John G. and Rachel Lear Addis Eller. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II. He was a retired aircraft technician. He was a member of the Woodstock Masonic Lodge No. 246 and the International Association of Machinist and Aerospace Workers Union. He also was a member of Harmony Grove Baptist Church in Marietta.

He was preceded in death by: a daughter, Leila Mae Littrell; a brother, Johnny Eller; and two sisters, Leila and Althea.

Survivors include: his wife, Elise Welch Eller of Cartersville; four sons, the Rev. Randy Eller of Dallas, Joe Eller of Cartersville, Jeff Eller of Kingston and Edward Eller of Rancho Cucamonga, Calif.; three daughters, Annetta Armstrong of San Jose, Calif., Bobbie Murdock of Dallas and Beatrice Louise Eller of Cartersville; 16 grandchildren; and 16 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Hunter Funeral Home with the Rev. Randy Eller and Lloyd Hunter officiating. Burial followed at the Welch family cemetery in Clayton.

Hunter Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. An online guestbook is available at www.hunterfuneralhome.com.

The Clayton Tribune, Jan. 17, 2008