

James Henry Fox

Omitted by error.

Early in January, James Henry Fox, a native of Jackson County, died in Sedro Wooley, Washington.

He was the son of the late Nelson and Margaret Ash Fox.

His body was returned to Western North Carolina for burial.

Services were held at the Tilley Creek Baptist Church and burial followed in the church cemetery. Rev. Bill Edd Haskett and Rev. Dills Parrish took part in the service.

Serving as pallbearers were Anse and Alan Fox, Varnell Stiles, Claude Holland, Hartwell Patterson, and Will Webb. Anse and Alan Fox met the body at Buford, Georgia.

Mr. Fox is survived by his wife, three sons, Lenon Fox, of Detroit, Michigan, David Lee Fox and Elisha Fox, of Sedro Wooley, Washington; two dau-ughters, Mrs. James Crunkleton, of Leesville, S. C. and Mrs. Andrew Cairnes, of Seattle, Washington; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Price, of Sedro Wooley, Washington, Mrs. Charlie Watson, of Brevard, and Mrs. John Buchanan, of Sylva.

Bryant Funderal Home was in charge of the arrangements.

The Franklin Press, 27 February 1969