

T/Sgt. George C. Gray Memorial Service

An impressive memorial service for T/Sgt. George C. Gray, who was killed in action in England on April 22, was conducted in the Franklin Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon, June 3, with Dr. J. T. Gillespie, pastor, presiding.

Guy L. Houk, former teacher of Sgt. Gray, spoke briefly of the youth's excellent qualities of character. All who knew him admired his honesty, his dependability, and his ability to make friends.

Dr. George Bellingrath of Rabun Gap Industrial school delivered an address on the subject of liberty, and pointed out that throughout the history of America our freedom had been preserved by those, who like Sgt. Gray, had given their lives for their country.

Dr. Gillespie made some very fitting scripturally based remarks for the encouragement of members of the family. Appropriate scripture lessons were read and a prayer said by Rev. J. F. Marchman. A poem was read by Rev. W. Jackson Huneycutt.

Several musical selections were rendered by a union choir, with Mrs. Ollmer Jones as organist. The church, where Sgt. Gray had attended Sunday school and church, was filled to overflowing with relatives and friends who had come from all sections of the county for this service.
