

Bernard Allen Heinle, 83, of St. Petersburg, Fla., died Friday, April 22, 2005, at Northeast Georgia Medical Center.

He was born in Lucas County, Ohio, to Del Alfred and Hortence Edna Meilink Heinle. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II, spending his time in Europe. He was a retired electrical engineer.

Survivors include: his wife, Sylvia Franklin Heinle, of St. Petersburg, Fla.; a son, Dell Heinle of Homosassa, Fla.; three stepsons, David Edwards of St. Petersburg, Ed Edwards of Clayton and Richard Wiltse of Crescent City, Calif.; four grandchildren, Brandi Heinle, Staci Patton, Shawn Edwards and Megan Edwards; and a great-grandchild, Jordan Patton.

A memorial service was held Sunday April 24 in the Beck Funeral Home chapel with the Rev. Warren Huddleston officiating. The family is holding a service in Fort Lauderdale Fla. Burial will follow.

Memorial donations may be made to the Clayton First United Methodist Church Family Life Center.

Beck Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements. An online memorial register will be available at www.beckfuneralhome.com.

The Clayton Tribune, April 28, 2005