

L. M. Henson Rites Held On Thursday

Funeral services for Lonnie M. Henson, 60, a farmer and native of Clay County, who died at his home in the Otto Community Wednesday of last week, were conducted the following day at the Asbury Methodist Church.

Officiating were the Rev. Robert L. Poindexter, pastor, the Rev. V. N. Allen, former pastor of the Shooting Creek Church, and the Rev. Curtis Swaim, of Wadesboro. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Henson was born August 2, 1894, the son of Mrs. Lillie Cowart Henson and the late J. E. Henson, of Otto. In 1914 he was married to Miss Ora Norris, of this county, who survives.

Other survivors include three sons, Ralph and Gilmer, of Otto, and Calvin, of Franklin; three daughters, Mrs. Paschal Norton and Mrs. Ben P. Grant, both of Franklin, and Mrs. Charles Palmer, of Isle of Palms, S. C.; five brothers, Carter and Carl Henson, of Franklin, Ed and Thurman, of Otto, and Claude, of Clayton, Ga.; and seven grandchildren.

Serving as pallbearers were Dover, C. A., Jr., Morris, Elmas, Sherrill, and Doyle Henson.

Arrangements were under the direction of Bryant Funeral Home.
