

J. M. Hodge Dies In California

Mrs. E. B. McCollum received a wire from Long Beach, Calif., Tuesday afternoon telling of the death of her brother, J. M. Hodge. Mr. Hodge, whose home was formerly in Johnson City, Tenn., had been making his home in California for some time. He has often visited Mrs. McCollum, and only last summer, spent several months here. Death was attributed to a sudden heart attack.

The Franklin Press, 28 December 1939