

---

Son-In-Law Of W. O. Lewis Killed

Boyce Horne, husband of the former Osceola Lewis, daughter of W. O. Lewis of Franklin, was killed in a train accident March 23, at Marshville, which is near his home below Charlotte. Mr. Horn's car collided with a passing train at the main crossing of the town, killing him instantly.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Alice Gaye, 20 months. They have just arrived in Franklin to spend some time with their family.

---

The Franklin Press, 9 April 1942