

Samuel Howard

Dies At His Home At
Otto Tuesday

Samuel Howard, 79, life long resident of Macon County and a member of one of Macon County's pioneer families, died at his home in the Otto community Tuesday night at 11 p. m. His death came following a long illness.

This well known Macon farmer was the son of the late Pulaski and Nancy Dillingham Howard. Having spent his entire life here he was well known throughout the community and influential in civic affairs.

Funeral services will be held at the Mulberry church Thursday (today) with the Rev. L. C. Stevens conducting the service. Burial will follow in the Mulberry church cemetery.

Mr. Howard is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alma Cabe Howard, three daughters, Miss Nina Howard, Miss Myrtle Howard, and Miss Veva Howard and one son, L. C. Howard, Sr.

Bryant funeral home was in charge of the arrangements.
