

Lizzie Belle Tyler Moore, 85, of Tiger, died Thursday, Jan. 5, 2006, at Mountain View Community Living Center.

She was born March 7, 1920, in Rabun County to Harv and Martha Smith Tyler. She was a homemaker and was a member of Wolf Creek Baptist Church.

She was preceded in death by: her husband, Frank Marcell Moore; two brothers, Frank Tyler and Raymond Tyler; and two sisters; Nancy Beasley and Fannie Mae Watts.

Survivors include: a son and daughter-in-law, Curtis and Kay Moore of Tiger; a daughter and son-in-law, Margie and Larry Billups of Huntington, W.Va.; five grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild; three brothers, Cecil Tyler of Mountain City, James Tyler of Cornelia and Robert Tyler of Homer; seven sisters, Lillian Jones of Wiley, Irene Whitfield of Clarkesville, Virginia Taylor of Florida, Ruth Rigney of Staten Island, N.Y., Clara Faye Baker of Rabun Gap, Catherine Davis of Cleveland and Joan Barner, Marion, S.C.

Graveside services were held Sunday at the Bethel Baptist Church cemetery with the Rev. George McDonald officiating.

Hunter Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

The Clayton Tribune, Jan. 12, 2006