

Dr. J. R. Morgan

Relatives here of Dr. J. R. Morgan of Portland, Oregon have been notified of his death on September 2 in a Portland hospital following a brief illness.

James Riley Morgan was born June 28, 1877 in the Tellico section of Macon County. He was the son of the late Joseph and Rebecca Dewese Morgan, a pioneer family. He attended school in his community and graduated from Southern Dental College in Atlanta. He then moved to Oregon and did dental work until he retired. He was married to the former Emily Dean of the Oak Grove section, who preceded him in death nine years ago.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Nora Woodard of Walla Walla, Wash. and Mrs. Ethel Meadows of the Oak Grove section in Macon County; a half-sister-in-law, Mrs. Carl Morgan of Franklin and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were conducted in Portland on September 6 and interment was private.