

Dr. T. J. O'Neill

Dr. Thomas J. O'Neill, a native of Virginia and long time resident and former health officer for Macon County, died in a local hospital Saturday. His wife, who survives, is a retired Home Economics teacher from the Macon County school system.

Rev. C. C. Welch conducted a memorial service at the funeral home Saturday and the body of the deceased was cremated.

Mrs. O'Neill has requested that in lieu of flowers that contributions be made to the American Cancer Society.

Bryant Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements, and the body was sent to Maryville, Tenn., for cremation.

The Franklin Press, 6 October 1969