

Edith Marion Coffey Phillips, 76, of York, S.C., and formerly of Clayton, died Saturday, March 26, 2005, at her home after an extended illness.

She was born Dec. 1, 1928, in Buena Vista, Va., to Walker Lee and Sarah Montgomery Coffey. She retired as an accountant from Dunlap Johnson Chevrolet in York, S.C., where she also was a member of Trinity United Methodist Church.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Robert Douglas Phillips Jr., and a brother, Thurmond Lee Coffey Sr.

Survivors include: two daughters and sons-in-law, Edie P. and Jeff West of York, Lita P. and Doug English of Clayton; three granddaughters, Amy York Blackwell and husband Shane and Jolie York, all of Clayton, and Melissa West of York, S.C.; a stepgranddaughter, Mandy English Howard and husband John of Clayton; a stepgrandson, Justin C. English of Mountain City; one great-granddaughter, Brenley York; three sisters and a brother-in-law, Katherine and Gordon Rogers of Roanoke Rapids, N.C., Roxie Barksdale of Lynchburg, Va., and Betty Teague of Buena Vista, Va.; a sister-in-law, Normagene Coffey of Buena Vista, Va.; a brother-in-law, Robert Douglas of Big Island, Va.; and 14 nieces and nephews.

Memorial contributions may be to the Alexa R. Good ALS Foundation, P.O. Box 12248, Rock Hill, SC 39731; or Hospice and Community Care, P.O. Box 993, Rock Hill, SC 29731.

Memorial services were held Wednesday in Greenhill Cemetery, Buena Vista, Va.

Bratton Funeral Home, York, S.C., was in charge of arrangements.

The Clayton Tribune, March 31, 2005