

King M. Phillips

King M. Phillips, a 68 year old native of Rabun County, Ga., died at his home on Route 1, Dillard, Ga. last Saturday night. He had been ill for a long period of time.

The son of the late Reece and Erria Phillips, he married Allice Mae Sanders, of Macon County, December 25, 1918.

Active in the Franklin Church of God, he had served as a Sunday School teacher there for six years.

Funeral services were held Monday at his church with Rev. David Maney, Rev. Doyle Maney, Rev. Emerson Davenport and Rev. Eugene Davenport conducting the service. Burial was in the Coweeta Church cemetery.

Nephews of the deceased served as pallbearers.

Mr. Phillips is survived by his wife; two sons, Bernard Phillips of Route 1, Dillard, Ga.; and Ellis Phillips, of Route 2, Franklin; five daughters, Mrs. Troy Gregory, of Dillard, Ga.; Mrs. Frank Curtis, of Dillard, Ga.; Mrs. Henry Rogers, of Dillard, Ga.; Mrs. Clarence Norris, of Route 4, Franklin, and Mrs. Horace Bradley, of Breyard; four brothers, Charley Phillips, of Lakemont, Ga., Jop Phillips and Clarence Phillips, of Clayton, Ga., and Newton Phillips, of Toccoa, Ga.; two sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Barnes, of Clarksville, Ga., and Mrs. Ollie Mae Franklin, of Hollywood, Ga.; two half-sisters, Mrs. Little Jane Eller and Mrs. Mary Patton, of Toccoa, Ga.

Neal - Potts Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.